

Resort Recommendations for Your Family

These recommendations are based on the activities and amenities each resort offers, aiming to match the interests and needs of different family types. However, individual preferences can vary widely, so considering specific interests within these groups is also important.

Families with small kids

- Suncadia Resort seems most suitable for families with small children. Its offerings include a children's playground and a pool, which are perfect for young kids. The presence of a children's playground indicates activities designed to engage young children, and the pool provides a safe and fun environment for them to enjoy the water.
- Mounthaven Resort is also a good option, with children's activities mentioned. Its close proximity to Mount Rainier National Park provides a natural playground for kids to explore.

Families with teenagers

- Sagecliffe Resort & Spa is an excellent choice for families with teenagers. The dramatic cliffside outdoor heated swimming pool and live concerts from The Gorge Amphitheatre offer thrilling experiences that teenagers are likely to enjoy. The adventurous setting and activities like hiking can also appeal to the more active and exploratory nature of teenagers.
- Suncadia Resort can also cater to teenagers through its array of activities like archery and bicycle rental, which offer more independence and challenges suited for older kids.

Families with boys

- Mounthaven Resort could appeal to families with boys, offering hiking and outdoor adventures that are often popular with boys. Its rustic setting near Mount Rainier National Park provides a great backdrop for adventures and exploring nature.

- Suncadia Resort also offers activities like archery and bicycle rental that could be attractive to boys, providing a mix of physical activity and exploration.

Families with girls

- Willows Lodge, with its serene courtyard, vibrant garden, and focus on nature could be very appealing to families with girls. The gardens and the proximity to the Sammamish River offer a peaceful retreat with plenty of opportunities for exploration and relaxation.
- Salish Lodge & Spa might also be suitable, providing a cozy, cabin-like atmosphere with fireplaces in the rooms and a picturesque waterfall. This setting can offer a magical experience, potentially aligning with interests in nature and tranquility.
